MEET MICHAEL

Every organization has information to share.

Every audience has facts to remember.

But facts inform.

Stories transform.

For more than forty years, Michael Brundy has helped audiences discover that stories are one of the most powerful tools for leadership, communication, learning, and personal growth.

A Hall of Fame speaker, storyteller, author, teacher, and retired corporate leader, Michael combines practical experience, genuine warmth, humor, and unforgettable stories to create presentations audiences remember long after the event has ended.

Whether speaking to corporate executives, educators, churches, associations, libraries, or community organizations, Michael's mission remains the same:

Helping people learn, laugh, and grow through the power of story.

WHY ORGANIZATIONS INVITE MICHAEL

Michael doesn't simply deliver a presentation.

He creates an experience.

Organizations appreciate that every presentation is:

- Customized to the audience
- Engaging from beginning to end
- Filled with memorable stories
- Practical and immediately useful
- Inspirational without being preachy
- Professional and easy to work with
- Appropriate for diverse audiences

People leave entertained.

More importantly—

They leave changed.
